Left: Gus Holzer, 1st Assistant Director for "Ulee's Gold" & "Coastlines" graciously answered all questions posed by the audience.

The Carrabelle History Museum started off the Forgotten Coast Film Festival this month with a wonderful event at the Franklin County Senior Center-Carrabelle. Over 50 people attended the opening night for the film series on Thursday, January 26 with the showing of the classic, "Ulee's Gold" and featured special guest, Gus Holzer, first assistant director for "Ulee's Gold" and "Coastlines" to share insights and behind the scenes tales from the movies.

The goal of the film festival is to bring the best quality Forgotten Coast area films to Carrabelle and introduce people to these wonderful works featuring the beauty of this region. Over the next few months, the series will feature three more outstanding films made on location in Carrabelle and along the Forgotten Coast. The series will continue with "Forgotten Coast: Return to Wild Florida" on Thursday, February 16, 6 pm. Then, Thursday, February 23, 6 pm, come see "Coastlines". The final film, on Thursday, March 16, 6 pm, will be "Apalachicola River: An American Treasure", about the Apalachicola River basin, featuring special guest, Elam Stoltzfus, director and cinematographer for the film. Location & time: 6 pm Franklin County Senior Center-Carrabelle, 201 NW Avenue F, Carrabelle, FL 32322

(Chamber note: No admission charged, but donations to the Museum are always welcome! Gift items from the Museum will be available for purchase. Light refreshments & snacks will also be available to purchase in support of the Senior Center)

January 2017 TDC News

Dear Friends of the Franklin County TDC,

It appears more visitors are discovering our Forgotten Coast as numbers continue to increase across the board. Our 2016-17 Fiscal Year is off to a good start with October Collections at $95,107; an increase of 26.7% from last year!

The main event for this month was the Apalachicola Volunteer Fire Department's Oyster Cook Off, which appeared to have many more visitors this year. A good sampling may be that twice as many t-shirts were ordered than last year. With the exception of some small shirts, the rest sold out in the first hour! The FCTDC is proud to help support this event with a $2,000 Non Profit Event Promotion Grant the organization can use towards their advertising. Promotional efforts were supported by the FCTDC through TV in the Tallahassee/South Georgia markets, newsletter distribution to over 40,000 subscribers, and social media activity.

At the January meeting the board approved three new organizations to receive the $2,000 grant for promotions. Funds will go to the Carrabelle Artist Association, the City of Carrabelle Riverfront Festival and the Mystic Krewe of the Salty Barkers Pet Parade for a total of 28 organizations supported in part by the FCTDC. A special request for funds was made by the City of Apalachicola and approved by the FCTDC to provide funds to refurbish existing and add new informative interpretative displays along the riverfront and bay front.

The FCTDC distributed $35,000 in sustaining grant funds for the first quarter with $5,000 each to the Center for History, Culture and Arts, the Crooked River Lighthouse, Camp Gordon Johnston, Raney House Museum, Dixie Theatre, St. George Island Lighthouse and the Carrabelle History Museum. These funds are primarily used to enable facilities to provide services to visitors year round.

Marketing efforts continue to produce a positive ROI. The FCTDC website database added 260 new sign-ups with a third of these generated from the Culinary Getaway currently being promoted. Each month these folks are sent our e-newsletter with updates on all events in Franklin County. This is a great way to ensure visitors are aware of what we have to offer and can better plan their trips.

The FCTDC is putting more emphasis on television advertising. WXTL's live morning show will host local representatives from the Apalachicola Chamber, Carrabelle Cares and other organizations to also promote their upcoming events. In partnership with Riverways South we will be working to showcase the Apalachicola River. The popular series, Kayak Bassin' hosted by Chad Hoover will be filming in our area at the end of January.

We had 12,807 visitors to our website; almost 4,000 more visitors than the same time last year with half the visitors originating from Florida. Our four county Visitors Centers spoke to over 1600 guests in December.

A new art exhibit will be held in the Eastpoint Visitor Center (where the FCTDC office is located) from January 23 to February 28 featuring Haitian, African and American Art from the collection of Oryan Speed. Be sure to stop by and enjoy the artwork celebrating Black History Month. The center is open Monday-Friday, 9am-4pm and Saturday 9am-2pm; closed on Sundays. The Center will host an opening reception on February 4 from 3pm-5pm. to which the public is invited. For more information call Jean Lane at 670-3474.

Finally, the next Board Meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, February 8th at 2 pm at the Eastpoint Visitors Center. All meetings are posted on saltyflorida.com and open to the public.

We are pleased to be off to a good start so far this year and look forward to continued progress as we see what next month will bring. That's the news for January. We'll talk tourism again next month.

Kind regards,

Laura Graham, Assistant Administrator, FCTDC
